STATE INSPECTORS AT CINCINNATI MINE TODAY

Commission of Six Experts Inspecting the Workings

INQUEST NEXT WEEK

Foreman of Jury Tells Mail Investigation Will Be Thorough

Thorough investigation is to be made into the cause of the mine explosion at the Cincinnati mine last Wednesday. Today a commission of State mine inspectors are exploring the workings and will prepare a report for the coroner's jury. The total dead taken from the mine thus far is 96. On Saturday night the body of a victim was found, and two were discovered on Sunday all three being brought to the morgue at Monongahela. This morning another body was located and will be brought to the morgue probably tonight. Inasmuch as there are still some of the miners missing it is likely that there are some bodies unrecovered. All the latest were found under what is known as "small falls."

In the company of State inspectors that entered the mine today were Arthur Neale of Irwin, Isaac G. Roby of Uniontown, Thomas K. Adams of Mercer, Charles P. McGregor of Carnegie, and T. D. Williams of Johnstown. Alexander McCann of Monongahela though not one of the commission accompanied the inspectors.

Coroner James T. Heffran is in Washington today and is looking after arrangements for the inquest. With the coroner and President Van Bittner of the Pittsburgh District U. M. W. A. at the head a company of experts will enter the mine for an inspection tomorrow morning. After that it is probable that a government inspection will be made and the mine turned over to the coal company, who will also have an inspection made.

Harry Landefeld of Monongahela, foreman of the coroner's jury to inquire into the mine horror said to the Mail this morning that everybody would be given a fair show and that the inquest would be just, but it above all things would be thorough. The blame will be placed by the coroner's jury where it belongs, he stated. It is probable according to Mr. Landefeld that the inquest will be made entirely public and be held in a public hall at Monongahela. It will likely be next week before affairs are gotten in shape for the inquest.

One of the latest to be brought from the mine is understood to be "Buck" Simon of West Monongahela. His body had not been officially identified at noon. The man found this morning at the mine was in bad shape, and may prove one of the hardest of those yet found to identify.

Reception for Pastor.

Rev. H. N. Newell, pastor of the Methodist Episcopal church of Allentown was tendered a reception by the members of that denomination on last Thursday evening. A musical and literary program was rendered and a social evening spent. A purse of $20 was given Rev. Newell.

Have Workout At the Rink

Inclement Weather Puts Damper on Indianapolis Federal's Practice

Owing to the cold and generally inclement weather the Indianapolis team of the Federal league did not get in any field practice today. This afternoon Manager Phillips has them training out at the skating rink. Exercise is what is needed and he is seeing to it that they are getting that. If the weather is fit it is likely that a regular yanigan game will be played tomorrow. Bair, a pitcher, Beswick an outfielder and Potter a catcher reported today.

CHURCHES DONATE TO MINE FUND

Are Heaviest Contributors in Relief Work Today

REPORT OF TREASURER

Heaviest contributions today to the Charleroi Mail mine relief fund for the families of the Cincinnati mine victims were two churches. Sunday evening the Washington Avenue Presbyterian church raised a fund of $40 to be donated to the fund. The Baptist Young People's Union of the First Baptist church collected in $9.02 which was added to the general fund. The total to date is $136.02.

No general relief committee has been appointed as yet. This will be a matter that will be taken up very soon. The money received by the Mail has temporarily been deposited in a local bank. As contributions are received they will be noted, the names of the givers published and the amount added to that already in the bank. Following is a statement furnished by the treasurer of the fund, Harry E. Price, of today's contributions:

Previously reported	$85.00
Washington Avenue Presbyterian church	40.00
Baptist Young People's Union	9.02
Joseph Shilling	1.00
Fred B. Reeves	1.00

Total to date $136.02

ARRANGING BENEFIT PLAYGROUNDS GAME

Playgrounds Auxiliary to Have Charge of Contest Thursday Between Indianapolis and Charleroi Teams

Monongahela valley people will be afforded a good chance to see Bill Phillips' Indianapolis Federals in action on Thursday afternoon of this week when the Federals will play the Charleroi Independents for the benefit of the Charleroi playgrounds. Arrangements are now being perfected for the engagement. Even contingencies have been provided for, and if there is rain on Thursday the game will be played on Friday. President J. B. Schafer of the Playgrounds Auxiliary is generally in charge of preparations for the game. The playgrounds Auxiliary will look after the gate and will attend to the sale of tickets for the affair.

The lineups of the two teams have not been announced but the Charleroi Independents will present their strongest front. Manager Phillips of the Indianapolis club has interested himself more than a little in the attraction and will assist the Playgrounds Auxiliary in preparing for the affair.

BACK BROKEN; MINER DIES

Fayette City Man Succumbs to Injury After Two Weeks Suffering

From a broken back, which he sustained in a fall of slate at the Apollo mine of the Monongahela River Consolidated Coal and Coke company, Frank Sperk, aged 40 of Fayette City died at a Pittsburgh hospital Saturday. His body was brought back home on Tuesday.

Sperk was injured on April 14 while at his work in the workings. It was known that his back was broken, and he was hurried to the hospital. He was not expected to live, and the fact that he survived for nearly two weeks following his injury was considered somewhat remarkable.

MOVING PICTURES TO BE PRODUCED

North Charleroi will furnish the first show of the season or rather a series of them. Beginning on Monday, May 12 the J. Frank Hatch Shows will open for a week's engagement at North Charleroi under the auspices of the fire department of that borough, who are desirous of raising funds for the purchase of an auto truck.

The Hatch Shows is a big aggregation. It carries twenty cars with six Pulmans on which the company lives. It also carries its own horses for hauling its wagons and has every up-to-date appliance of a first-class circus. A fine line of attractions, among which is a wild west outfit, composed of cowboys, Indians and ponies, numbering about 75 people. An electrical fountain is also one of the leading attractions.

J. Stanley Roberts is in town today making arrangements for the arrival of a moving picture operator who will take local films to be exhibited during the engagement. He expects to get moving pictures of the fire departments of Charleroi, North Charleroi and Monessen, the schools and various other views of local industries and other features of interest. The moving picture machine man will be here Tuesday or Wednesday, take the pictures and then send the negatives away to be manufactured into films.

Many Visit Fated Mine

Hundreds of Curiosity Seekers See Entrance to Exploded Workings

Curiosity seekers were so numerous at the Cincinnati mine on Sunday that the State Constabulary and a detachment of railroad officers had to be called to the scene. There was nothing to see but there were many visitors. Probably during the afternoon one thousand people visited the spot below Courtney where during the last few days 96 bodies have been brought out. One curiosity seeker, a foreigner was walking on the track when he was struck by a train. Today the mine entrance at Courtney is boarded up with the words on the board, "Danger, No Entrance Until 6 o'clock."

ATTEMPT BURGLARY OF OFFICE

Pittsburg Plate Glass Works Building Is Entered

EFFORTS ARE IN VAIN

The story of an entry and attempted robbery of the Pittsburg Plate Glass office at the foot of Fifth street an occurrence of Friday night became known today.

Entrance was made by breaking through a window at the south side of the office building. Once inside the burglars conducted a systematic search for money and valuables. So far as can be learned by the officials of the local plant nothing of value was taken.

The cash drawer lock was broken and the drawer gone through. However all the money had been deposited in the large vault before the office had been locked for the night. The police were notified and are working on the case.

LOCAL COUPLE ARE WEDDED AT AVALON

At Avalon on Saturday at the home of the groom's sister, J. M. Whitlatch of Charleroi and Mrs. Clara Zimmerman of North Charleroi were married. Rev. F. A. Wright, pastor of the First Christian church of Bellevue was the officiating clergyman. Mr. and Mrs. Whitlatch will live in North Charleroi. Mr. Whitlatch is a well known business man. He formerly conducted a tin shop. Mrs. Whitlatch was formerly a school teacher but for some time has been the postmistress at North Charleroi.

Bodies of Mine Explosion Victims Interred at Various Places

IS DAY OF MOURNING

Transfer Wagons Used for Hearse--Service Held for 15 at One Church

Sunday was a day of funerals along the Monongahela valley. Fifty-six bodies of victims of the Cincinnati mine explosion were interred in various cemeteries. A drizzling rain continuing the greater part of the day added discomfort to sorrow. All day long crowds stood watching the passage of hearses, automobile trucks, carriages, buggies and other vehicles carrying the dead and mourners to burial grounds.

In Monongahela there were 18 funerals held. Twenty one were held in Finleyville and 17 in Donora. Three hearses appeared in one procession at Monongahela, the funerals being those of three Italians who had boarded at the same house in Courtney and who had been close friends.

In Donora 15 funerals were held from the Lithuanian church. For hearses transfer wagons were used. Places were arranged for each of three wagons to carry five bodies. Over them was spread oilcloth coverings. Burial took place in the Catholic cemetery. Women and children followed the caskets to the grave. Such a heartrending sight was never before seen in Donora.

The morgue at Monongahela was practically emptied of its dead Sunday. Nearly all the bodies were identified and taken away. Services were held in all the Monongahela churches excepting the Baptist, where Rev. A. M. Gregg abandoned worship because of the number of funerals he had to conduct. Rev. D. L. Schultz, labor evangelist of the Pittsburgh Baptist Association came from West Virginia on Saturday to extend his services to the miners' families.

FAST BOXING THE ORDER AT TURNER HALL

Fast boxing was the order at the Turner Hall Saturday night. Eddie Wimler, of Fairhaven and Eddie Conlon, of Pittsburg fought in what was to have been a six round bout in the final. Conlon was pretty well used up after the fourth, and his seconds threw up the sponge. The fighting was fast, Wimler showing himself a good fighter at close quarters. "Heck" Pellet, of Monessen and "Jim" Thompson, of Charleroi, upon whom has been bestowed the title of "The Fighting Conductor" boxed two rounds and the good part of the third when Pellet was laid low by a hook to the jaw. He took the full ten count.

"Cockey" Malone, of Black Diamond knocked out "Kidd" Lohman in the very first round. Tim Wilson was the referee. A number of fighters challenged the winners of the various bouts.

BUY A TICKET.

Starting today tickets will be offered for sale by the Playgrounds committee for the benefit baseball game next Thursday, at the local park, between the Indianapolis team of the Federal league which Manager Bill Phillips is training here, and the Charleroi Independents. The proceeds of this game are to be devoted to the Playgrounds fund, and it is needless to remark that it is a most worthy cause, and one that is advertising and bringing Charleroi into the limelight as a progressive town in civic work.

In addition to helping a worthy cause, all who patronize the game will get value received for their money. The Indianapolis team is composed of baseball professionals who will make a record before the season is over, and the team as now constituted is expected to hold its own with any professional team in existence.
The Charleroi Independent team is one of the best semi-professional teams on the independent circuit, and one that can hold its own with any of the minor league teams. The game is one that any baseball lover would willingly pay the price of admission to see and will draw a large crowd on its merits alone.

Let every citizen purchase a ticket. The price of admission is small, but an aggregate of the contributions of all who have the welfare of the children at heart will constitute a most respectable fund.

THE GOVERNOR'S STAND.

Governor Tener has taken a stand in regard to the passage of the public utilities and the workmen's compensation bills, and announces that he will use every effort that he can legitimately command to secure their passage. The bills have been hung up in the senate for an indefinite period, and indications are that the senate is playing for delay in the interests of the corporations in the hope that the bills may be sidetracked for lack of time to consider them before the legislature adjourns.

Both of these bills were pledged by the governor in his campaign for election and they were killed by the action of the senate at the last session. There is a demand for these measures on the part of the people, and the governor announces that they must come up for consideration.
He will not stand for any more delay nor will he suffer them to be emasculated to the extent that will render them valueless. While the governor cannot compel the senate to pass the bills he can make it

most interesting for that body if it does not respond to the desires of the people who elected them. This he proposes to do and the indications are that the will carry out his intentions
so far as it is possible.
Governor Tener's attitude will receive hearty support of the people generally who are in thorough accord with these measures.

ELECTRIC SPARKS

Between the State Senate and the Cincinnati mine we have had about all the explosions we care for for a while.

Some politicians become stiff-necked after they land office for the simple reason that they never expect to land
another when their term expires.

The Progressive idea of a traitor
to his country is a man they elected to office who won't vote the way Flinn says.

And now they say that a large percentage of the girls who go wrong are feeble-minded. That idea meets with much general approval as being correct.

It looks as though it would keep Congress busy keeping out of Wilson's ways and approving Bryan's
good plans.

It may be nice to own a car
And down the road go snorting
But motoring is quite a jar
To courting.

Preparations are being made to have everything clean and orderly in connection with the shows. The J.
Frank Hatch company is a reputable concern that exhibits on its merits,
and it does not have to resort to questionable attractions to draw business. It opened today for a two week's engagement in Pittsburgh, being located in the hill district. Burgess Harry W. Scott expects to swear in all the firemen as special policemen, so that good order may be preserved at all times with the outside crowds that are expected to attend.

PICKED UP IN PASSING

Even though the Pittsburgh Coal company may not be held directly responsible for the explosion at the Cincinnati mine last week whereby nearly 100 men lost their lives, the consensus of public opinion is that the blame attaches indirectly to the policy of that as well as every other corporation in trying to get an increased production at a minimum of expense. The imperative order issued to all the superintendents of
of mines and mills is, "Get out the coal," or whatever else the product may be. This causes a speeding up of the forces and equipment, which is always attended by long chances so far as safety is concerned.

"That is the eternal cry, 'Get out the coal!' that emanates from the head office," said a prominent coal man of the valley Saturday. "Every mine superintendent or foreman has this order drilled into his ears eternally, and his job depends in a measure upon the success in carrying out the mandate. No matter what the conditions at the mine may be, the order is virtually, 'Get the coal out; we don't care how; that's up to you, but get it out.'"

"Naturally every superintendent and foreman tries to push the work at high pressure, with more or less neglect to safety precautions. With the low price of coal the only chance for making any profit with in a big production. The financial institutions that carry the bonds go after the mining officials for the money to pay interest and notes, and the officials go after the superintendents at the mines to produce the coal.

"In my opinion this speeding up process is responsible for much of the loss of life and accidents about the mines and mills of the country."

"I've been scorched in the Cincinati mine many a time," said George Newton of Charleroi Saturday in speaking of the disaster. "I worked in that mine for a considerable period of time a number of years ago.
It was always gaseous, and the men were on the constant outlook for danger from that source. There were never any serious explosions, because the men were for the most part English speaking and skilled miners. There was a sprinkling of Germans and French in the mine then but all were good miners and looked out for the safety of themselves and fellow workers.

"Many a time while working in my room I've risen to my feet suddenly, when zist! a small explosion of gas would take place caused by contact with the light on my cap. Sometimes it would amount to nothing, and sometimes my eyebrows and hair would be singed. It all depended upon the amount of gas that had accumulated near the roof. While we were stirring around, shoveling
coal or working vigorously, the current thus generated would keep the gas clear. But if we sat down to eat our lunch, or stopped gas would often accumulate and then explode if we bumped our light into it.

"Usually we would wave our coats
or some garment to clear the gas out before entering the room if we were absent a short time. Those little explosions were of constant occurrence,
but no one was ever seriously burned."

At The Palace Tonight.

story in 32 scenes, which pictures the

A Giant Peppy Saw.

Kling James had a gigantic porter eight feet six inches in height but he was not perfect, being round shouldered, knock-kneed and lame in one foot. Of a similar height was Charles Munster, a yeoman of the Hanoverian guard who died in 1674, and seven years before there was being exhibited in London a Dutchman eight feet nine inches high and whom in Peppy's diary we find the following entry on Aug. 16, 1669: "Went to Charing Cross to see the great Dutchman. I did walk under his arm with my hat on and could not reach his chin with the tips
of my fingers."

Happiness.

If you cannot be happy in one way, be in another, and this facility of disposition wants but little aid from philosophy, for health and good humor are almost the whole affair. Many run about after felicity, like an absent-minded man hunting for his hat while it is in his hand or on his head.

the fact that Saturday was a pay day.

Laugh and Live Long.
It has been aptly said that there is not the remotest corner of the inlet of the minute blood vessels of the human body that does not feel some wavelet from the convulsions occasioned by good hearty laughter. The life principle of the central man is shaken to its innermost depths, sending new tides of life and strength to the surface, thus materially tending to insure good health to the persons who indulge therein. The blood moves more readily and conveys a different impression to all the organs of the body as it visits
them on that particular mystic journey when the man is laughing from that converged at other times. For this reason every good, hearty laugh in which a person indulges tends to lengthen his life, conveying as it does new and distinct stimulus to the vital forces.

he tried to induce him to look warlike.
All his efforts were in vain, however,
for Wellington seemed, judging by his patience. "As I am going to make this statue of your grace," he exclaimed,

"can you not tell me what you were doing before the battle of Salamanca? Were you not galloping about the field, cheering on your men to deeds of valor by words and action?"
"That," said the duke in calm response, "if you wish to model me
as I was on the morning of Salamanca, then do the carving along a ditch on my stomach with a telescope
in my hand."

Resting a Model.
Adolphe Manzel, the German painter, at one time was engaged on a work of mummy decoration and kept a man posed in an exceedingly fatiguing position on a scaffold for two hours. The great painter worked away, heedless of his model's discomfort. Finally the victim called down, "Herr Professor, how about the recess?"

"Certainly, my dear sir. Come down right away and you shall have your recess."

As the model was descending from the scaffolding his limbs assumed a position which was one for which the artist had long been looking.

"Stop!" Mervel thundered. "Hold! Ah, fine! Keep that while I make a little sketch of it!"

The artist drew vigorously for half an hour at the end of which he called out imperatively: "There! that will do for now. Go on on the scaffold again. We have had our recess."

Undetermined Joke.
"There's a crook gone to the island for ten days that I'll be looking for when he comes out," remarked a policeman on an east side post.

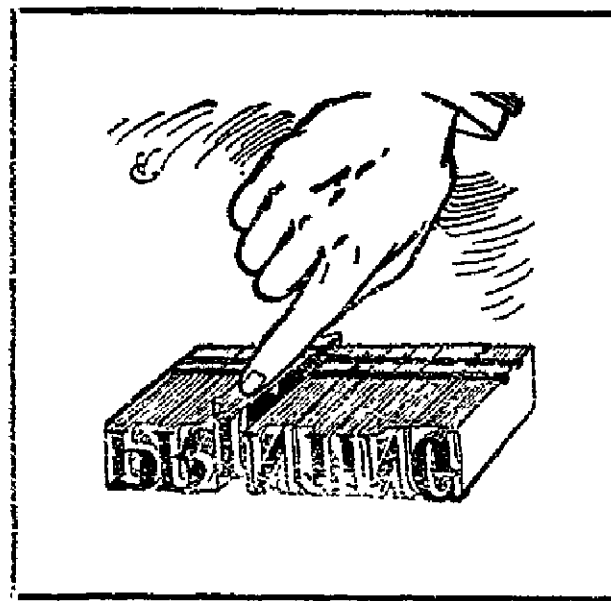

"Why?"

"Well, listen. I caught him trying a door on my beat the other night and took him in. He started to be nasty about it, and I swung my stick at him. Before I could land him one on the head he shouts out to me:

"Don't hit me! Look out! There's a dynamite stick in me pocket!"

"I stopped quick enough, all right, for, you see, I get all the blowing up I need at the station now and again. But listen. When that chap was searched at the station there wasn't a sign of dynamite on him."

"Who was the joke on? Never mind that. The question is, who will the joke be on? Just wait."—New York Globe.

VICTORY CLAIMED LOCALLY

Charleroi Independents
Defeat Sewickley
Nine

In their first game Saturday afternoon the Charleroi Independents experienced little difficulty in defeating "Joe" Mason's Sewickley aggregation. They accomplished this feat through the timely meeting of Shaw's benders. The score was 6 to 3.

With a lineup nearly the same as they had last year the Independents looked familiar, and played familiarly. Dan Ryan did heavier's duty so effectively that the total best Mason's crowd could do was to acquire five hits some of them not life size.

The visitors tallied first in the first. McMaster secured a pass and on a single and a sacrifice rounded the circuit.

Charleroi scored one in the first. Roll hit an easy one. Before the Sewickleyites could collect their hits and the ball he was standing grinning on first base. To make them more peevish he stole second base. Mathers stood at the plate until four wides one had passed. Scott singled. Roll went to third. Guder fanned the ozone. Wilson was hit by the pitcher and there was the run. Charleroi tallied three in the second. Kuhn was walked, Ryan singled and Roll and Mathers were outs. Scott sent one to right field fence for three bases, and Guder lined out a single. Of course all old that meant three runs.

Charleroi got two in the sixth inning. Ryan was safe on an error, Roll leaned against one for a single. Mathers was hit by the pitcher, Scott singled and Guder singled. Ryan and Roll were the men who brought in the runs.

Sewickley managed to work around two in the seventh. Weber won a base by a wild throw of his grounder to first from short. Patton singled. With two down, Wilson singled to left and two runs came in.

"Joe" Mason was laid out in the fourth inning by an accident. He had gone to the Charleroi bench for a drink of water. A boy was swinging bats there. By accident one of the bats came in contact with Mason's head and he went down. With the attention of a physician he was

Commission of Six Experts Inspecting the Workings

Thorough investigation is to be made into the cause of the mine explosion at the Cincinnati mine last Wednesday. Today a commission of State mine inspectors are exploring the workings and will prepare a report for the coroner's jury. The total dead taken from the mine thus far is 96. On Saturday night the body of a victim was found, and two were discovered on Sunday all three being brought to the morgue at Monongahela. This morning another body was located and will be brought to the morgue probably tonight. Inasmuch as there are still some of the miners missing it is likely that there are some bodies unrecovered. All the latest were found under what is known as "small falls."

In the company of State inspectors that entered the mine today were Arthur Neale of Irwin, Isaac G. Roby of Uniontown, Thomas K. Adams of Mercer, Charles P. McGregor of Carnegie, and T. D. Williams of Johnstown. Alexander McCauley of Monongahela though not one of the commission accompanied the inspectors.

Coroner James T. Heffran is in Washington today and is looking after arrangements for the inquest. With the coroner and President Van Bittner of the Pittsburgh District U. M. W. A. at the head a company of experts will enter the mine for an inspection tomorrow morning. After that it is probable that a government inspection will be made and the mine turned over to the coal company, who will also have an inspection made.

Harry Landefeld of Monongahela, foreman of the coroner's jury, to inquire into the mine horror said to the Mail this morning that everybody would be given a fair show and that the inquest would be just, but it above all things would be thorough. The blame will be placed by the coroner's jury where it belongs, he stated. It is probable according to Mr. Landefeld that the inquest will be made entirely public and be held in a public hall at Monongahela. It will likely be next week before affairs are gotten in shape for the inquest.

One of the latest to be brought from the mine is understood to be "Buck" Simon of West Monongahela. His body had not been officially identified at noon. The man found this morning at the mine was in bad shape, and may prove one of the hardest of those yet found to identify.

Reception for Pastor.

Rev. H. N. Newell, pastor of the Methodist Episcopal church of Allentown, was tendered a reception by the members of that denomination on last Thursday evening. A musical and literary program was rendered and a social evening spent. A purse of $25 was given Rev. Newell.

Inclement Weather Puts Damper on Indianapolis Federal's Practice

Owing to the cold and generally inclement weather, the Indianapolis team of the Federal league did not get in any field practice today. This afternoon Manager Phillips has them training out at the skating rink. Exercise is what is needed and he is seeing to it that they are getting that. If the weather is fit it is likely that a regular yanigan game will be played tomorrow. Bair, a pitcher, Beswick an outfielder and Potter a catcher reported today.

REPORT OF TREASURER

Heaviest contributions today to the Charleroi Mail mine relief fund for the families of the Cincinnati mine victims were two churches. Sunday evening the Washington Avenue Presbyterian church raised a fund of $40 to be donated to the fund. The Baptist Young People's Union of the First Baptist church collected in $9.02 which was added to the general fund. The total to date is $136.02.

No general relief committee has been appointed as yet. This will be a matter that will be taken up very soon. The money received by the Mail has temporarily been deposited in a local bank. As contributions are received they will be noted, the names of the givers published and the amount added to that already in the bank. Following is a statement furnished by the treasurer of the fund, Harry E. Price, of today's contributions:

Previously reported	$85.00
Washington Avenue Presbyterian church	40.00

ARRANGING BENEFIT PLAYGROUNDS GAME

Playgrounds Auxiliary to Have Charge of Contest Thursday Between Indianapolis and Charleroi Teams

Monongahela valley people will be afforded a good chance to see Bill Phillips' Indianapolis Federals in action on Thursday afternoon of this week when the Federals will play the Charleroi Independents for the benefit of the Charleroi playgrounds. Arrangements are now being perfected for the engagement. Even contingencies have been provided for, and if there is rain on Thursday the game will be played on Friday.

President J. B. Schafer of the Playgrounds Auxiliary is generally in charge of preparations for the game. The playgrounds Auxiliary will look after the gate and will attend to the sale of tickets for the affair.

The lineups of the two teams have not been announced but the Charleroi Independents will present their strongest front. Manager Phillips of the Indianapolis club has interested himself more than a little in the attraction and will assist the Playgrounds Auxiliary in preparing for the affair.

BACK BROKEN; MINER DIES

Fayette City Man Succumbs to Injury After Two Weeks Suffering

From a broken back, which he sustained in a fall of slate at the Apollo mine of the Monongahela River Consolidated Coal and Coke company, Frank Sperk, aged 40 of Fayette City died at a Pittsburg hospital Saturday. His body was brought back home on Tuesday.

Sperk was injured on April 14 while at his work in the workings. It was known that his back was broken, and he was hurried to the hospital. He was not expected to live, and the fact that he survived for nearly two weeks following his injury was considered somewhat remarkable.

MOVING PICTURES TO BE PRODUCED

North Charleroi will furnish the first show of the season or rather a series of them. Beginning on Monday, May 12 the J. Frank Hatch Shows will open for a week's engagement at North Charleroi under the auspices of the fire department of that borough, who are desirous of raising funds for the purchase of an auto truck.

The Hatch Shows is a big aggregation. It carries twenty cars with six Pullmans on which the company lives. It also carries its own horses for hauling its wagons and has every up-to-date appliance of a first-class circus. A fine line of attractions, among which is a wild west outfit, composed of cowboys, Indians and ponies, numbering about 75 people. An electrical fountain is also one of the leading attractions.

J. Stanley Roberts is in town today making arrangements for the arrival of a moving picture operator who will take local films to be exhibited during the engagement. He expects to get moving pictures of the fire departments of Charleroi, North Charleroi and Moerssen, the schools and various other views of local industries and other features of interest. The moving picture machine man will be here Tuesday or Wednesday, take the pictures and then send the negatives away to be manufactured into films.

Hundreds of Curiosity Seekers See Entrance to Exploded Workings

Curiosity seekers were so numerous at the Cincinnati mine on Sunday that the State Constabulary and a detachment of railroad officers had to be called to the scene. There was nothing to see but there were many visitors. Probably during the afternoon one thousand people visited the spot below Courtney where during the last few days 96 bodies have been brought out. One curiosity seeker a foreigner was walking on the track when he was struck by a train. Today the mine entrance at Courtney is boarded up with the words on the board, "Danger, No Entrance Until 6 o'clock."

The story of an entry and attempted robbery of the Pittsburg Plate Glass office at the foot of Fifth street an occurrence of Friday night became known today.

Entrance was made by breaking through a window at the south side of the office building. Once inside the burglars conducted a systematic search for money and valuables. So far as can be learned by the officials of the local plant nothing of value was taken.

The cash drawer lock was broken and the drawer gone through. However all the money had been deposited in the large vault before the office had been locked for the night. The police were notified and are working on the case.

Bodies of Mine Explosion Victims Interred at Various Places

IS DAY OF MOURNING

Transfer Wagons Used for Hearse--Service Held for 15 at One Church

Sunday was a day of funerals along the Monongahela valley. Fifty-six bodies of victims of the Cincinnati mine explosion were interred in various cemeteries. A drizzling rain continuing the greater part of the day added discomfort to sorrow. All day long crowds stood watching the passage of hearses, automobile trucks, carriages, buggies and other vehicles carrying the dead and mourners to burial grounds.

In Monongahela there were 18 funerals held. Twenty one were held in Finleyville and 17 in Donora. Three hearses appeared in one procession at Monongahela, the funerals being those of three Italians who had boarded at the same house in Courtney and who had been close friends.

In Donora 15 funerals were held from the Lutheran church. For hearses transfer wagons were used. Places were arranged for each of three wagons to carry five bodies. Over them was spread oilcloth coverings. Burial took place in the Catholic cemetery. Women and children followed the caskets to the grave. Such a heartrending sight was never before seen in Donora.

The morgue at Monongahela was practically emptied of its dead Sunday. Nearly all the bodies were identified and taken away. Services were held in all the Monongahela churches excepting the Baptist, where Rev. A. M. Gregg abandoned worship because of the number of funerals he had to conduct. Rev. D. L. Schultz, labor evangelist of the Pittsburg Baptist Association came from West Virginia on Saturday to extend his services to the miners' families.

FAST BOXING THE ORDER AT TURNER HALL

Fast boxing was the order at the Turner Hall Saturday night. Eddy Wimler, of Fairhaven and Eddie Conlon, of Pittsburg fought in what was to have been a six round bout in the final. Conlon was pretty well used up after the fourth, and his seconds threw up the sponge. The fighting was fast. Wimler showing himself a good fighter at close quarters.

"Heck" Pellet, of Monessen and "Jim" Thompson, of Charleroi, upon whom has been bestowed the title of "The Fighting Conductor" boxed two rounds and the good part of the third when Pellet was laid low by a hook to the jaw. He took the full ten count.

"Cockey" Malone, of Black Diamond knocked out "Kidd" Lohman in the very first round. Tim Wilson was the referee. A number of fighters challenged the winners of the various bouts.

Resting a Model.

Adolphe Menzel, the German painter, at one time was engaged on a work of mural decoration and kept a man posed in an exceedingly fatiguing position on a scaffold for two hours. The great painter worked away, heedless of his model's discomfort. Finally the victim called down, "Herr Professor, how about the recess?"

"Certainly, my dear sir, come down right away and you shall have your recess."

As the model was descending from the scaffolding his limbs assumed a position which was one for which the artist had long been looking.

"Stop!" Menzel thundered. "Hold! Ah, fine! Keep that while I make a little sketch of it!"

The artist drew vigorously for half an hour, at the end of which he called out imperatively: "There, that will do for now. Get up on the scaffold again! We have had our recess!"

Undetermined Joke.

"There's a crook gone to the island for ten days that I'll be looking for when he comes out," remarked a policeman on an east side post.

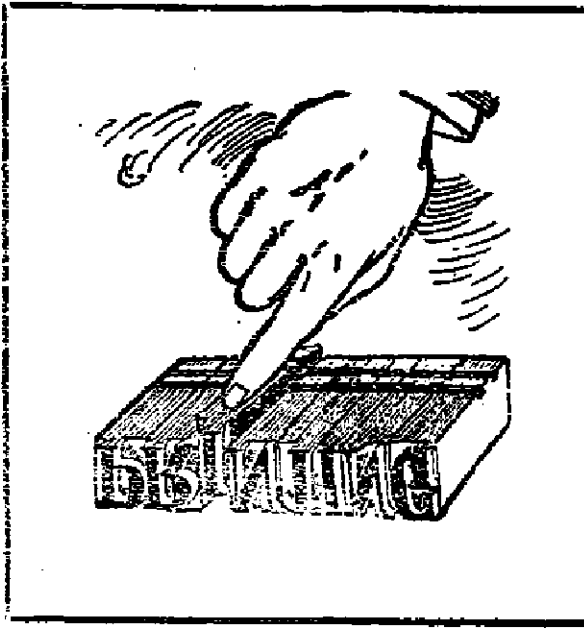

"Why?"

"Well, listen. I caught him trying a door on my beat the other night and took him in. He started to be nasty about it and I gave my sons at him. Before I could land him one on the head he shouts out to me:

"Don't hit me! Look out! There's a dynamite stick in me pocket!"

"I stopped quick enough, all right, for, you see, I get all the blowing up I need at the station now and again. But listen. When that chap was searched at the station there wasn't a sign of dynamite on him."

"Who was the joke on? Never mind that. The question is, who will the joke be on? Just wait."—New York Globe.

VICTORY CLAIMED LOCALLY

Charleroi Independents
Defeat Sewickley
Nine

In their first game Saturday afternoon the Charleroi Independents experienced little difficulty in defeating "Joe" Mason's Sewickley aggregation. They accomplished this feat through the timely meeting of Shaw's benders. The score was 6 to 3.

With a lineup nearly the same as they had last year the Independents ly. Dan Ryan did heaven's duty so effectively that the total best Mason's crowd could do was to acquire five hits some of them not life size.

The visitors tallied first in the first. McMaster secured a pass and on a single and a sacrifice rounded the circuit.

Charleroi scored one in the first. Roll hit an easy one. Before the Sewickleyites could collect their hits and the ball he was standing grinning on first base. To make them more peevish he stole second base. Mathers stood at the plate until four wides one had passed. Scott singled. Roll went to third. Guder fanned the ozone. Wilson was hit by the pitcher and there was the run. Charleroi tallied three in the second. Kuhn was walked, Ryan singled and Roll and Mathers were out. Scott sent one to right field fence for three bases, and Guder lined out a single. Of course all old that meant three runs.

Charleroi got two in the sixth inning. Ryan was safe on an error, Roll leaned against one for a single. Mathers was hit by the pitcher, Scott singled and Guder singled. Ryan and Roll were the men who brought in the runs.

Sewickley managed to work around two in the seventh. Weber won a base by a wild throw of his grounder to first from short. Patton singled. With two down, Wilson singled to left and two runs came in.

"Joe" Mason was laid out in the fourth inning by an accident. He had gone to the Charleroi bench for a drink of water. A boy was swinging bats there. By accident one of the bats came in contact with Mason's head and he went down. With the attention of a physician he was
